This Graveyard is located in the southeast part of Orono township, formerly Cedar Township, Muscatine county, Iowa; near Cone Iowa. To be axact in the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of Section 9, Township 76N, Range 4W in Muscatine County Iowa

It was started when plots of ground were sold to neighbors and friends by my great grand father Alonzo Brockway. A wire fence surrounded it and because it was not in good repair I, with the help of my husband and mother, took the records down as best we could that they might be kept, as time is wearing away the stones.

Many of the deaths had occurred before this agreement was made. In fact one in 1842 and my great grand mother died in 1873, three years before the agreement, but we do not know if they were buried some place else and then moved or had been laid there at the time of death.

The Cemetery had been kept up by members of the family who lived near, but now many are gone away and it is being neglected. Great grand father was laid to rest just 13 years after the agreement was made and a daughter was laid on the lot in 1920 just 31 years later. Not many have been buried there since 1940.

Washington, Iowa

Washington, County, Iowa is in the Southeast part of the State of Iowa, which at one time was a part of the Louisiana Purchase. Iowa was for a while a part of Michigan, later Wisconsin. Wisconsin Territorial Legislature on Dec. 7, 1836 divided the southeastern part of Iowa known as Des Moines Co. into 7 counties one of which was Slaughter County later to become Washington County. It was first settled in 1836 when Adam Richey came from Illinois with his family and built the first cabin.

The first County seat was Astoria, but on Jan. 25, 1839 it was changed to Washington County and in June three men met to locate the County seat and on Aug. 13, 1839 it was ratified that the County seat of Washington County was to be known and designated as Washington, Iowa.

The Eastern boundary of the County is about 25 miles from the Mississippi River and its southern boundary is about 50 miles from the Missouri State line. It has 15 townships, their names beginning at the northwest corner are: Lime Creek, English River Iowa, Seventy-six, Cedar, Jackson, Highland, Dutch Creek, Franklin, Washington, Oregon, Clay, Brighton, Marion, Crawford. It contains 573 square miles.

In 1840 there were 12 families living in Washington, Iowa. They were Joseph Adams, Henry McCollough, Dr. George H. Stone, Daniel Powers, Bloomer Thompson, Almon Moore, Anos Embree, John Jackson, John Hendel, H.A. Stone and Samuel Joy.
